POPE'S VISIT TO KING MAKES HISTORY TODAY

Pontiff Calls on Italian Monarch; Closer Union of Church, State Seen.

By The Associated Press

ROME, Dec. 28—Pope Pius XII and Italy's king and queen today met in a rare display of papal pomp and royal ceremony signifying the ever-closer relations between the Vatican and the Italian state.

The glittering pageantry marked the first visit by any Pope to the palace of the present Italian emperor and the first call on a temporal prince in more than 70 years.

It formally repaid the visit to the Vatican by King Vittorio Emanuele and Queen Elena a week ago.

The occasion, rich with color and formality, symbolized the final dissolution of any discord that snuffed Italy's seizure of Rome from the Pope in 1870 and the city's designation as the Italian capital.

In some foreign eyes the ceremonial also signified possible cooperation between the Vatican and the government toward eventual peace efforts, but Fascist authorities disclaimed any coordination of foreign policies.

The Pope and Premier Mussolini both are hostile to Bolshevism. But Virginio Gayda, editor who often expresses correctly the government's view, said today's meeting lacked any connection with policies or "concrete problems of war and peace."

Writing in the Giornale D'Italia, Gayda said that while "war and the problem of peace find the church and Italy on the same plane, their conceptions and evaluations differ."

He explained that the church thought in terms of humanity generally, while the government thought in terms of Italy's "worldly interests," including "the quality of right and possessions with other nations."

As for the church, the Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, said the visit taught that when "responsible chiefs know how to find equitable solutions, tempering cold justice with wise renunciations," as in the Lateran accords, "the people understand and appreciate it."

BURNED BATTLING FLAMES IN $500 FIRE

Floyd Lyle Suffers Burns on Hand; 2 Rooms Damaged.

Floyd Lyle of 144 East George street suffered burns on the left hand when he attempted to extinguish a fire at his home today at noon. He was treated by the family physician.

Fire Chief McFarland said the fire, which resulted in damage estimated at $500, apparently originated from an overheated gasoline stove in a small washroom. Mr. Lyle discovered the blaze shortly after noon and attempted to extinguish the fire, resulting in the burns.

Firemen from the Central and North Side stations were called and they fought the fire for an hour before extinguishing the flames. Chief McFarland said two rooms used as the residence were badly burned and that some clothing and furnishings were destroyed. Another part of the building, used as a tire repair shop, was not damaged.

42,000 Dead or Injured Listed in Earthquake

More Shocks Add New Terror to Suffering of People in Hundreds of Destroyed Towns; Nation Makes Appeal to World for Assistance.

By The Associated Press

ANKARA, Turkey, Dec. 28—Officials announced today 42,000 persons were killed or injured in the region of Erzincan alone in yesterday's Anatolian earthquake.

New tremors shook Anatolia today while a blizzard and fierce winds increased the suffering of hundreds of thousands of homeless.

A heavy storm raged along the Black sea coast, tearing ships loose from moorings and battering down seaside homes.

With the temperature 22 degrees below zero (fahrenheit), many of thousands of earthquake survivors who had fled to fields were frozen to death, according to sparse reports reaching Ankara officials.

Erzincan is a vilayet, or province, in the extreme east of Turkey on the Armenian border. (The statesmen's yearbook gave Erzincan's 1935 population as 187,344. The city of Erzincan had a population of about 40,000.)

Erzincan is about 350 miles east of Ankara and about 200 miles east of Sivas and Samsun, in the area which earlier reports had indicated was hardest hit.

Casualty List Grows

Before the report on the Erzincan district reached Ankara, an unofficial estimate had given the number killed or injured yesterday in Anatolia as 8,000.

It was feared the death toll would mount as survivors of the quakes faced the dangers of exposure, lack of proper medical attention and scarcity of food and pure water.

Yesterday's temblors toppled minarets from mosques and sent them crashing through the roofs of buildings, killing some persons in their sleep.

Disrupted communications prevented officials from learning how serious were the effects of today's shocks.

Relief expeditions meanwhile battled through the blizzard over debris-strewn rail lines and roads to take aid to the victims.

The suffering of survivors was accentuated in many localities by bitter cold and deep snow.

Fires swept many habitations which had withstood the earth shocks, forcing many into the open where exposure carried the risk of widespread illnesses.

Food and pure water supplies were scanty.

Twelve cities ranging in population from 12,000 to 40,000, and 80 villages were said to have been demolished. In the city of Tokat alone, 953 persons were reported killed and 443 injured.

Dwellings were shaken down on the sleeping occupants.

City of 40,000 Burns

Erzincan, a city of 40,000, lay in flaming ruins. Every large building had collapsed, including a large military barracks where all the officers, 90 cadets and a large number of soldiers were killed.

Bursting gas mains and overturned oil lamps set fire to collapsed buildings in almost every corner of the wide disaster area.

Slowly, bit by bit, over disrupted communications the picture of the catastrophe was put together.

Hundreds who escaped death in the wholesale collapse of buildings met a more gruesome fate when they were trapped by fires which spread quickly in the stricken area.

Whole villages were turned into vast funeral pyres.

Screams of the trapped women and children mingled with the dull roar of crumbling masonry, the crash of breaking glass, and sirens of ambulances and fire engines.

The lack of sparatus to fight hundreds of fires which still were burning frustrated attempts to recover bodies or to check the extent of casualties accurately.

Bodies Fill Streets

Many towns and villages still were cut off entirely from the outside world by the wrecking of communication facilities.

In the crowded sections of cities, the streets were strewn with bodies of persons killed by falling debris.

Whole families were buried in their beds under tons of wreckage.

Others were burned to death as they attempted to escape from flaming buildings. Many who escaped unhurt in their night clothes into the bitter winter night already were seriously ill from exposure.

Authorities prepared for an expected wave of pneumonia and other illnesses.

Scantily clad men, women and children were camping in fields, refusing to return to their homes in fear of new temblors.

Ordu, Sivas and Amasia were scenes of widespread havoc.

President Ismet Inonu interrupted a tour of the country to rush to the disaster area and

G.O.P. SURVEYS FARMER VIEWS

Find Rural Areas Skeptical of Trade Program and Mounting Deficit.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—After a seven-state survey Rep. Hope, Republican of Kansas, declared today that the average farmer is fairly well satisfied with the government's agricultural policies but is concerned over the trade agreements program and the federal deficit.

Hope is chairman of a 50-man Republican committee of house members which recently sounded out "grass roots" sentiment at hearings in Salt Lake, Denver, Dallas, Minneapolis, Hutchinson, Kans., Des Moines, Iowa, and Springfield, Mo.

He gave this summary of "voluntary opinions" expressed at the meetings, which he said were attended by both Republicans and Democrats.

1. Comment on the federal farm program ranged from "lavish praise to severe condemnation; all seemed to think there should be "some kind of a government program"; complaints related mostly to administrative red tape, delay and complicated reports which farmers must make.

2. The trade agreements were condemned for the most part, with the proposed Argentine treaty arousing the most opposition.

3. "Increasing concern" was manifested over the federal deficit, with indefinite suggestions for a permanent method of financing farm benefit payments through a tax.

4. A desire was expressed for more emphasis on soil conservation than on crop control as under the present program.

5. Strong sentiment was voiced for the United States to stay out of war, even if it meant that farmers would have to sacrifice temporarily higher prices in the event of such a conflict.

Meanwhile, Secretary Wallace predicted that the proposed certificate plan of boosting farm income would receive substantial support in congress. The agriculture secretary disputed at a press conference yesterday reports that the plan had been vetoed by administration fiscal authorities.

The certificate plan would operate something like a processing tax. It would be designed to raise funds for parity payments intended to place farmer purchasing power at pre-World war levels.

Hope said that his committee probably would wait until next spring after additional hearings to submit a report to the Republican members of the house.

"The results of our study will relate to the future of farmer-government relations," he said. "We plan to take no stand on comparatively minor farm legislation that may be presented to congress in the next few months."

THREE MURDERERS ESCAPE FROM PEN

By The Associated Press

FLORENCE, Ariz., Dec. 28—Three of Arizona's most notorious life-term murderers escaped from the state prison last night. Two of them hadn't been outside prison grounds for more than 20 years. They were Tom Power, 46, and John Power, 49, brothers, who killed Graham county officers while dodging the draft in 1918. The third fugitive is Bill Faltin, 66, who spent several years in death row before his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Their escape from cabins where they slept, about 150 yards outside the prison walls, was easy.

They had been trusties for years.

Twelfth Annual Hospital Benefit Dance Held in Colorful Setting

400 Take Part in Gala Event Staged Amid Yuletide Greenery; Many Guests from Out of Town.

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Designed to the rhythm of 1940 was the twelfth annual holiday dance sponsored by the Woman's Board of the Marion City hospital last night at Schwinger's hall. The hall and annex were bedecked with Yuletide greenery, Johnny Martone and his band played music supreme, and the more than 200 couples were in the mood for dancing.

Many out-of-town guests in the city for the holidays planned their visits to include the dance date, and the younger social set home from college who can always be depended upon to provide color and beauty to the picture, all added gaiety to the dance, which was voted by the 400 dancers as "one of the best."

A number of dinner and cocktail parties preceded the dance. Among those entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. LaMarche of 416 East Church street, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Evans of 346 West Center street, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Guthery of 666 Bexley. Mr. and Mrs. LaMarche were hosts at dinner for the house guests of the junior members of the family, Miss Barbara Broun of Houston, Texas, Miss Ada Montanus, Jack and Ed Montanus of Springfield, and William Hearn of Los Angeles, Calif. Home also for the holidays are their daughters Miss Marian LaMarche, who is attending Saint Mary's college, Notre Dame, Ind., and Miss Natalie LaMarche, a student at Visitation Convent, Washington, D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Evans entertained with a cocktail party and their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Maloney of Chicago, whose marriage took place in that city a week ago, and William Moore of Canton. Mr. and Mrs. Guthery, who also entertained with a cocktail party, had as an out-of-town guest Herbert Welsh of Loudonville.

Candid cameras clicked as the guests ascended the stairway banked with miniature Christmas trees. In the hall tall red and silver candles outlined the walls and the panels were hung with huge holly wreaths tied with red bows. The lights were festooned with garlands of greenery, and one end of the hall was banked with Christmas trees. Garlands of greenery also improvised an alcove in which the orchestra was seated.

Huge poinsettia bloom formed the centerpiece for the table in the annex, from which refreshments were served during an intermission. Silver and red Christmas motifs decorated the table which was laid with a red cloth and lighted with red candles. At the small tables arranged throughout the annex the cloths alternated in red and white, and around the walls and above the doorways and windows were garlands of greenery.

The pastels and vivid tones in the gowns worn by some of the matrons and misses were in striking contrast to the white and black gowns chosen by others, and all provided a colorful picture on the dance floor. Smart was a silver gray satin gown worn by a striking brunet with a tiny black bow in her equally black locks, and her flowers were gardenias. Another fetching costume was a white brocaded satin, the bodice of which was banded with black and the skirt had a deep hem of black. A striking costume of Hunter's green had red for contrast, and equally as striking was an all white gown topped with an ostrich cape. A tall brunet wore white net trimmed in silver, and a pink net costume with a bodice of sequins was stunning, while a dusty rose costume worn by a striking blond and a single orchid was most effective.

A gown of white net was most effective with its extremely full skirt accented with a tight bodice and long scarfs extending from the shoulders, with which the wearer chose to wear an orchid, and another picture gown was of white net, the tiered skirt of which was shot with silver cloth. Completing the latter cos-

Prisoners Given Christmas Recess All Back in Jail

All hands present and accounted for was the report issued today at the county jail, from which six prisoners were released last Saturday so they might spend the Christmas holiday with their families.

Two of the sextet, granted temporary freedom, apparently didn't value it too highly, Sheriff Fred F. Miller reported. Both returned to the jail within an hour after their release and asked to be committed to their cells.

Family difficulties and the attractiveness of the county jail's holiday menu contributed to their change of mind, they informed Sheriff Miller.

The remaining four enjoyed a week-end of freedom before reporting Tuesday morning to complete their sentences. Those released are serving out fines or short sentences on minor charges. Prisoners whose cases are pending in court were not granted the privilege of leaving.

Heart Disease That Strikes Suddenly Soon May Be Predictable, Doctor Says

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 28—Coronary thrombosis, the heart death which strikes humans without warning, soon may become predictable due to a Harvard medical discovery announced here today.

Coronary trouble is most apt to hit the high-tension, executive type of person, but no class has been entirely safe, and there has been no way of foretelling. The Harvard discovery, in addition to its warning, promises that those unlikely to have this trouble may have the comfort of knowing.

The report was made to the medical section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. Monroe J. Schlesinger of Harvard medical school and Beth Israel hospital, Boston.

Coronary heart trouble is due to failure in the coronary arteries, which supply blood to the heart muscles. If the supply fails the heart stops working. These arteries pipe blood to both the left and right sides of the heart.

In human autopsies at Boston an odd fact turned up about this coronary piping system. In some persons the pipes delivered more blood to the left side than to the right, in others more to the right, and in a third group were evenly balanced.

This latter group, 34 per cent of the population, are the least likely to have coronary heart trouble. The right-sided hearts, 46 per cent

MARION WOMAN DIES AFTER CAR SKIDS INTO TRAIN'S PATH

Finnish Soldiers Invade Russia on Broader Front

Ski Troops Make Second Dash To Cut Soviet Railroad to Murmansk in Arctic Region.

By The Associated Press

HELSINKI, Dec. 28—Finland's defensive invasion of Soviet Russia was broadened today by a second thrust toward the Murmansk railway, supply artery for Red invaders in the far north.

At the same time Finnish forces in the Karelian isthmus, southeastern Finland, reported that repeated Russian tank attacks were shattered on the Mannerheim line.

Finnish airmen, cooperating with swift, phantom-like ski troops in white, were said to have carried the eastern offensive to the railway itself with a series of bombing attacks.

Paralleling the movement of ski patrols from Lieksa, Finns were reported advancing into Soviet territory toward the railway in the Salla area, where the line runs within 45 miles of the border.

There were reports — but no confirmation — that the highly mobile ski patrols had reached their railway objective.

They were said to be bent on tactics similar to those of Lawrence of Arabia in the World war —swift forays to find weakly guarded stretches of track, then a dynamiting and withdrawal before opposing forces could reach the scene.

Reds Driven Back

The Red army was reported previously to have been driven back 50 miles in the Salla sector, about 230 miles north of Lieksa, point of the first Finnish invasion of Russia.

A Finnish ski battalion was reported continuing its penetration east of Lieksa.

On the isthmus front, each side retained its positions despite Russian attacks with heavy artillery and tanks. The Finnish communique yesterday said an enemy attack north of Lake Hatjalathi was repulsed and eight tanks destroyed.

Day and night artillery fire continued against Viipuri, near the Isthmus, but on the lake-dotted Karelian front there had not yet been a decisive battle.

Russian thrusts in an attempt to cross Lake Suvanto were accompanied by aerial bombings of the Southern coast area for the 12th consecutive day.

Civilian deaths from bombings throughout Finland were placed unofficially at 150 since the start of the war.

Guerrilla fighting increased on the northern Suomussalmi and Petsamo fronts, Finnish advices said, with forces in skis moving swiftly through the snowy wilderness.

Russian Resistance Stiffens in North

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 28—A Finnish attack on far northern Russian forces, which dug in near Salmijarvi after a 50-mile retreat, apparently had failed today in the face of strong Soviet opposition.

Reports from northern Norwegian frontier stations said the Russians were making a determined stand south of Salmijarvi in the bottleneck which is Finland's outlet to the Arctic ocean.

Soviet troops cut through that northern strip to Salmijarvi on the Norwegian frontier and then turned south 50 miles, as far as Nautsi, but were forced to retrace their steps to the Salmijarvi area.

Finnish forces following them withdrew when the Russians took up positions south of Salmijarvi.

Fifteen Finnish soldiers isolated when the main forces retreated several miles from the Russian positions, crossed the frontier into Norway and were interned.

The Finns surmised that the Russians were expecting reinforcements and were preparing a new southward push. Finnish reports yesterday said 300,000 fresh troops were being sent to the Russian fronts.

Volunteers from the Scandinavian countries are arriving in Finland in increasing numbers to help fight the Russian invaders. Several thousand Swedes are reported to have volunteered. There were reports that large numbers of Italian volunteers also had arrived, but the reports were without confirmation. (A British dispatch from Helsinki said 2,000 Italians had arrived at Tornio, Finland, to help fight Russia.)

OATH TAKEN BY JUDGE-ELECT HAZEN

W. Dexter Hazen, who Jan. 1 will begin a four-year term as municipal judge, took the oath of office yesterday afternoon in the common pleas courtroom. The oath was administered by Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young. Several members of the bar association who happened to be in the courtroom at the time were the only witnesses. Judge Hazen will succeed Judge William R. Martin, who has served since the court was created in 1926.

MISS PATRICIA DOYLE

ICE BLAMED IN MAIN ST. CRASH

Miss Patricia Doyle, Hotel Switchboard Operator, Dies 5 Hours After Mishap.

Miss Patricia M. Doyle, 30, of 231 West Columbia street was injured fatally when the car in which she was riding was struck by a freight train at the Big Four crossing on North Main street at 1:20 a. m. today.

Miss Doyle, a telephone switchboard operator at Hotel Harding, died at City hospital at 6:20 a. m. without regaining consciousness. The attending physician said she suffered severe shock, internal and chest injuries, fractures of the right shoulder and right knee and head lacerations.

The driver of the car, Ben Pickering, 23, of 223 South Main street, escaped uninjured.

Pickering told police investigating the accident he attempted to stop for the crossing when he saw the train approaching but skidded on the icy pavement. Southbound, he had stopped for the Erie crossing and then continued across the tracks when he saw no train, he told the officers. As he approached the Big Four crossing, 200 feet south of the Erie tracks, he saw the eastbound train approaching and attempted to stop, he said.

Car Carried 200 Feet

The locomotive struck the right side of the coupe and carried it down the right-of-way approximately 200 feet to the intersection of an alley midway between Main and State streets. The impact came on the side of the car on which Miss Doyle was riding, pinning her in the wreckage. The right side of the car was badly damaged. It was removed from the scene by a wrecker from the McDaniel Motor Co.

Jack Chivington, 21, of 210 Hane avenue, who apparently was the only witness to the accident, ran to the Royal Cafe on North Main street and informed employes who in turn notified police and summoned the Boyd ambulance which took Miss Doyle to the hospital.

Chivington said he was driving north on Main street and was stopping for the crossing when the accident occurred. He reported the Pickering car was traveling at a low rate of speed and "seemed to stop just before the train hit it." He said he did not notice whether the car was skidding.

Cleveland Crew on Train

The train, a through freight, was in charge of crew composed of Conductor C. R. Smiley of Cleveland, Engineer Art Wulfschlager of Cleveland, Fireman J. F. Kirby of Cleveland, Flagman Fred Durham of Bellefontaine and Brakeman W. E. Devine of Cleveland, police reported. Big Four representatives here said statements had not yet been taken from members of the crew. The train stopped a short distance from the scene of the accident and then continued on its run to Cleveland after Miss Doyle had been taken to the hospital.

One development from the mishap was the filing of an affidavit against Pickering this afternoon charging him with driving with improper license plates. He was scheduled for arraignment tomorrow morning. The charge was filed by Police Chief Marks who said the auto involved in the mishap was owned by Pickering but bore license plates issued to another member of his family.

Pickering, a salesman, was released on his own recognizance this afternoon pending a complete investigation of the accident, officials reported.

The crossing was unprotected at the time of the accident, the watchman having gone off duty at midnight. Miss Doyle's father, Richard L. Doyle, is the watchman at the Erie crossing on North Main street, a short distance from the scene of the accident. He, too, went off duty at 12 o'clock.

City Officials To Act

Pointing out that the uptown crossings are unprotected between midnight and 6 a. m. Safety Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell commented this morning that "without a doubt something will have to be done about crossing conditions at night." He said he was not sure what steps could be taken by the city to remove the crossing hazards and added that he planned to confer with City Solicitor Ralph E. Corbett about

BRICKER FILLS BANK POSITION

Lima Man Named To Succeed S. H. Squire as State Superintendent.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 28—Gov. Bricker today appointed Rodney P. Lien of Lima as state superintendent of banks to succeed Samuel H. Squire of Elyria.

Lien, president of the National Bank of Lima, will take the $7,500-a-year office Jan. 15.

Squire, an appointee of former Gov. Davey, announced yesterday he would quit on Jan. 1, but Governor Bricker said the resignation would not be accepted until Jan. 15 so that Squire would have served five full years as bank superintendent.

Bricker said that the Allen county Republican executive committee had indorsed Lien.

Lien, 38 years old and a native of Iowa, began his banking career as a bookkeeper at Mason City, Ia., and later went to Chicago. Four years ago he went to Lima as president of the First National.

Squire, the only Democrat who served in a high state post subject to Bricker's pleasure, gave no reason for resigning and said he had no plans for the future other than to "rest for a while." Squire has held five public offices over 25 years yet never was a candidate in an election.

He was president of the Lorain County Savings & Trust company when former Governor Davey named him bank superintendent in 1935.

OHIO SNOW STORM OF SHORT DURATION

All Roads Open but Traveling Remains "Treacherous."

The winter's first severe snow storm had snowed itself out over northern and eastern Ohio today, but the official government weather bureau forecast is for cloudy and continued cold tonight. Friday is seen as fair.

In Marion and vicinity snow still covered the streets and many roads today, making traveling treacherous. Yesterday two inches of snow fell here, Weatherman E. H. Raffensperger reported. The temperatures ranged from 37 to 22 degrees. A year ago the thermometer fell to five degrees above zero and never went over 22 degrees.

For Ohio as a whole, The Associated Press reported, only occasional flurries of snow are in prospect.

The snow storm left as much as eight inches in southern Ohio but dwindled to about an inch along Lake Erie.

Rain followed in some southeastern counties. All roads in the state were reported open. The state highway patrol said many routes still were treacherous, however.

The Cleveland airport reported all flights going through today after some had been held up last night to the east and south, icing conditions grounded all planes at Wright field, Dayton, last night.

The motorship Mascot held at Put-In-Bay by heavy seas on Lake Erie was to resume its schedule between the islands and Sandusky today.

DEATH CLAIMS HENRY DALTON

Cleveland Steel and Shipping Magnate Dies at Age of 77.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28 — Death last night ended the career of Henry G. Dalton, millionaire steel and shipping magnate.

Dalton, 77-year-old chairman of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and head of the nation's second-largest iron ore shipping firm, died of broncho-pneumonia. He suffered a stroke a year ago, underwent an emergency appendectomy Dec. 20 and pneumonia developed Christmas day.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the residence, with Bishop Beverly D. Tucker, head of the Episcopal diocese of Ohio, and Dean Chester B. Emerson of Trinity Episcopal cathedral, officiating. Memorial services will be held at the cathedral next month.

Dalton, a one-time shipping clerk, was a leader in the spectacular 1930 stock-buying battle to merge Youngstown Sheet & Tube with Bethlehem Steel Corp., and form a company comparable in size to U. S. Steel Corp. Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland financier, blocked the projected merger in the courts until it was abandoned.

The "Silent Iron King" became senior partner of Pickands, Mather & Co., giant ore and pig iron firm, on the death of Samuel Mather in 1931, and chairman of Youngstown Sheet & Tube in 1932. He also was president of Interlake Steamship Co., owners of 47 Great Lakes freighters.

Dalton was a director of Missouri Pacific and other affiliated Van Sweringen railroads for several years. He formerly was president of Interlake Iron Corp. and had been a director of the National City Bank, Ohio Bell Telephone Co., Youngstown Steel Door Co., Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, and the New York Trust Co.

Cleveland-born son of an English pharmacist, Dalton died in Lakeside hospital, of which he was a trustee. A sister, Mrs. Emily Dalton Kendrick of Cleveland is his only immediate survivor. Two nephews, Harry and George Kendrick, both of Cleveland, were at his bedside.

Pickands, Mather & Co. spent $7,000,000 alone in the stock-buying battle for control of the Youngstown steel concern, and Eaton plunged more than $11,000,000 into the fight.

At the time Dalton was a director of both companies. He and companions won the stockholders' vote but Eaton appealed to the courts. The business depression caused the proposed consolidation to be dropped in 1931.

Eaton, now active in the Cleveland investment firm of Otis & Co. had been a leader in forming Republic Steel Corp. and wanted to weld Sheet & Tube with Republic and other companies. The depression also ended those ideas.

Mr. and Mrs. Oborn have one daughter, Mrs. C. R. Conklin of near Waldo, and seven grandchildren. Mrs. Oborn has one brother, H. D. Miller of near Waldo.

The celebrants are members of the Eastern Star lodge at Ashley and Marion Shrine No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem. Mr. Oborn is a member of the Masonic lodge at Cardington. He has always engaged in farming and for 12 years was a member of the Morrow County Agricultural Society. He served as justice of the peace in Westfield township for 10 years and for four years was a member of the board of directors for the Morrow County Home.

NEW FARM AGENT TO BEGIN WORK SOON

Homer Porteus Expects To Start Job Late Next Week.

Homer S. Porteus of Delaware county, recently selected Marion county agricultural extension agent to succeed the late S. L. Anderson, is expected to begin his work here the latter part of next week.

Mr. Porteus, who is winding up his duties as extension agent for Delaware county, has been in his office here occasionally since his appointment was announced and is expected here for a short time later this week. His appointment is officially effective Jan. 1. However, since he had previously scheduled some meetings in Delaware county he plans to remain there a few days.

He will be succeeded at Delaware by Paul Cunningham, assistant agent for Wayne county.

ELECTION BOARD GETS CITY'S REQUEST

The Marion county board of elections will hold a special meeting today at 5:30 to consider the request of city council for a special election Jan. 30 to vote on two extra tax levies for relief and WPA financing.

Action of the board in approving requests for special elections is usually a formality.

The levies requested by council are:

1.3 mills for two years for poor relief, raising $44,777 annually.

.9 of a mill for two years for WPA, raising $30,485 annually.

MARION DRIVER FINED

BUCYRUS, Dec. 28—George W. Wood of 188 Elk avenue, Marion, was released upon payment of a $2 fine after receiving a ticket for crashing a red light at Sandusky and Mary streets, Tuesday.

FORMER MORROW CO. FARMER DIES HERE

Jason M. Garver Stricken at Home of Daughter.

Jason M. Garver, 77, retired Morrow county farmer, died last night at 10:30 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mildred Berry of 218 Cummins avenue.

He lived on a farm in Congress township in Morrow county for many years, retiring about 21 months ago because of ill health and coming to Marion to live with his daughter.

Mr. Garver was born on Jan. 22, 1862, in Bloomfield township, Morrow county, son of Adam and Margaret Garver.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Ida May Hartpence Garver, two daughters, Mrs. Berry and Mrs. F. L. Parks of Mt. Gilead, five grandchildren, three sisters, Miss Margaret Garver of Cleveland, Mrs. Leslie Bowman of Edison and Mrs. Frank Lee of Cardington, and one brother, Levi Garver of Mt. Gilead.

Mr. Garver was a member of the Mt. Tabor Methodist church in Congress township.

The funeral will be conducted Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the Berry home and at 2:30 at Trinity Methodist church in Mt. Gilead. Burial will be made in Riverclift cemetery at Mt. Gilead. Friends may call at the Berry home after noon Friday.

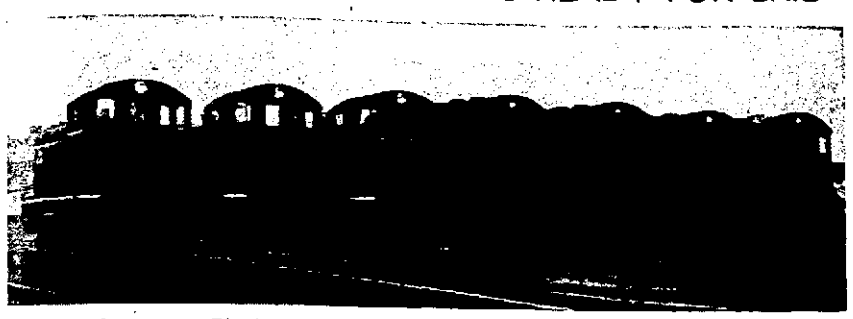
NEW DIESEL LOCOMOTIVES READY FOR ERIE



A fleet of seven new Diesel-powered locomotives is shown here lined up on arrival at the Erie railroad's eastern terminus at Jersey City. The new type engines will be used entirely in switching service.

Erie officials here said it isn't likely any of these will be used around here, but said that indications are that Diesels will gradually replace steam locomotives to some extent in switching service as time goes on. The Diesels are smokeless, are smaller than steam engines, have fewer wheels and therefore are less rigid and can take sharper curves than bulky steam engines. Electric switch engines are now used in some of the larger points on the western division.

O. W. U. Professor Sees Scandinavia As Troublesome Locality for Stalin

Special to The Star

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28—The Scandinavian peoples will be poor vassals for Soviet Russia if Stalin succeeds in his present venture and then extends his hand farther west into Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

This is the belief of Dr. Ben H. Arneson, head of the department of political science at Ohio Wesleyan university, Delaware, O., who addressed the American Political Science association at its annual meeting here today on the subject of "Scandinavia." He has made an extensive study of the three countries.

"These three nations have never been under non-Scandinavian domination. No one in written history has ever ruled them. Their pride makes it almost impossible to subdue them," Dr. Arneson said.

In spite of Stalin's success or failure in Finland, he will think twice before going into Scandinavia, according to the Ohio Wesleyan professor. And Finland's gallant stand against the mighty Soviet may curb entirely any ambition Stalin has toward the other three, he says.

"Their foreign policy is one of arbitration, neutrality and disarmament which they are championing fearlessly. This is shown in Norway's decision in releasing the City of Flint, an act which she sincerely believed to be the proper procedure for a neutral country."

Norway's three millions of population, Sweden's six millions and Denmark's four millions are the most perfect examples of democratic government in the world, Dr. Arneson told his fellow political scientists. Each, he said, has made democracy work in a remarkable degree.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Relief in Child-Bearing

NATURALLY enough, most medical progress is technical and would be too difficult for understanding by the lay reader. However, I will run through rapidly the results of my investigations of progress in 1939, more in order to acquaint the reader with the wide range of medical activities than for any other reason.

Obsterics—In this ancient and fundamental department of medical practice, it is reported that new procedures include elective induction of labor and progress in the relief of pain during labor. A few voices, whose calling would sound better in the pre-Victorian wilderness than today, oppose the relief of pain during labor. One woman physician said, "Child-bearing is so essential an experience to a woman that the thwarting of its normal course by the use of analygesics may cause damage to her personality." The modern obstetrician, however, has more sensible views and it may be said that several safe and effective methods of preventing pain in labor are available.

Blood Diseases—This is an extremely active field at present and methods of diagnosis by tapping the bone marrow, etc., have been introduced. Great progress has been made in the treatment of spontaneous hemorrhages and hemorrhagic states by the use of vimtain K. Vitamin K is necessary for blood clotting and can be introduced into the blood stream when it is not absorbed.

Neutrology—In neurology the existence of vitamin deficiency states has been found to be the cause of many nervous syndormes. It has, indeed, been claimed that all cases of neuritis are due to deficiency of vitamin B. Treatment is obvious on this basis.

In Meniere's disease, or recurrent vertigo, two procedures have been found successful. One is Dandy's operation, which severs the equilibrium branch of the auditory nerve. The operation is now selective so that deafness, as in former years, does not result.

The shock treatment of depressed mental states, including dementia praecox, is widely used. This is the treatment which was brought back by a young American doctor from Europe, with the words, "I have seen a miracle." It is indeed miraculous to see the dementia praecox patient, who has been in a state of living death, unresponsive, unable to eat or to attend to the bare necessities of life, "snap out of it" after the use of metrazol.

Dermatology—In psoriasis, sarsaparilla and vitamin D have been used. Vitamin D has also been used in acne.

In pruritus ani many improvements have been made in treatment.

Horny conditions of the skin have been treated by vitamin A.

X-Ray—Improvement has been made in the examination of the gall bladder, the spinal canal, the brain, the breast, the placenta, the liver and the spleen.

Super-voltage rays have shown improvement.

The treatment of X-ray sickness, which follows intensive treatment, has been relieved by the use of an ozone mask and the use of large amounts of sugar during the treatment.

The brilliant results of X-ray treatment in cancer of the skin are coming to the surface. Cancer of the prostate, of the uterus and of the bronchi are being treated.

New Year To Bring Social Security Benefits To 56,000 Aged in Ohio

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28—To some [illegible] Ohioans the new year is expected to bring federal social security.

Monthly benefits under the amended social security act become effective in January for eligible workers and their heirs, Robert C. Goodwin, regional social security board director, said today Ohioans in occupations covered by the government's old age insurance program represent slightly more than six per cent of the nation's total.

On this basis, he estimated Ohio's 1940 eligible list would include 30,000 aged workers, 7,500 aged wives of workers, 1,200 aged widows, 5,000 younger widows with dependent children, 12,000 dependent children and 600 dependent parents.

Goodwin said the social security board estimated the average monthly benefit check, based on earnings, at about $25 in the first years of the program. This estimate does not include supplementary spouse or family benefits, he said.

To be eligible a wage earner must be at least 65 years old, retired, and must have worked in six calendar quarters since Jan. 1, 1937, receiving at least $50 in wages during each quarter.

Ohio's state pension plan and the federal old age and survivors' insurance program are entirely independent, Goodwin said.

He explained that workers who had received lump sum benefits—3½ per cent of total wages from Jan. 1, 1937—may qualify for monthly checks. The sum he received would be deducted from monthly benefits. Goodwin said lump sum payments in Ohio totaled $1,763,664.

The regional director outlined briefly seven possible groups of beneficiaries:

The wage earner of 65 or more; his wife of at least 65, dependent children; widows of 65—if widowed after Dec. 31, 1939; younger widows with dependent children; solely dependent parents of 65 whose unmarried wage-earner son dies, and the friend of a deceased qualified worker, without near kin, who bears the cost of his funeral.

Age Barrier Removed

"The age barrier to federal retirement insurance has been torn down," said Goodwin, referring to the amended act which advanced the date for monthly benefits two years. "Even the man who already was 65 when the old age insurance system was set up may now qualify for monthly benefits."

Eighteen social security field offices have been established in Ohio for the convenience of potential claimants.

These are located at Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Akron, Canton, Youngstown, Ashtabula, Lorain, Warren, Zanesville, Portsmouth, Marion, Mansfield, Lima, Springfield, Dayton and Hamilton. Another is to be opened at Nelsonville in Athens county.

Goodwin said federal grants to Ohio for public assistance to date total $87,200,063, including $55,906,370 for old age aid and more than $19,000,000 in unemployment compensation benefits. He said total taxes collected under the social security act in Ohio through September were $93,166,482.

A FAMILY dinner last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fields of near Caledonia was the occasion for the announcement of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Helen Maxine, to Richard E. Probst, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Probst of 579 Mt. Vernon avenue.

Saturday, Jan. 27, birthday anniversary of the bride-elect's mother, has been set as the wedding date.

Miss Fields is employed at the Uhler-Phillips Co. store and Mr. Probst is associated with his father in the Probst Supply Co. Both were graduated from Harding High school in 1935. Mr. Probst attended Wittenberg college in Springfield and last June was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university where he affiliated with Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

SECRET SISTERS were revealed and names drawn for the coming year when the Senior Starlight club entertained the Junior club at a Christmas party last evening at Hotel Harding. Poinsettia and tapers carried out the table decorations and Santa's boots marked the places. Bridge and cootie entertained the guests. In bridge the awards went to Mrs. M. E. Miller and Mrs. John Brady of the Senior club, and Mrs. Charles Scheitler and Miss Marian Dale Greenland of the Junior club. Mrs. Mary Travis received the galloping award. In cootie Miss Florence Leonhardt and Mrs. Walter Fetter received the awards. Guests included Mrs. Mary Travis of New Boston, O., Mrs. Fetter, Mrs. Robert Ebert, Mrs. George Reinwald Jr., Mrs. Myron Gibson, Mrs. Horace Wilson and Mrs. Donald Hoffman. Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Hoffman and Mrs. Reinwald were enrolled as new members.

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Pauline Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hawkins of Lock Haven, Pa., to James E. Rinesmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Rinesmith of 360 Oak street, was made by the bride-elect's parents at a dinner Christmas eve at the Fallon Hotel in Lock Haven. The wedding will take place in June.

The Christmas party of the Wimodausis club was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Steele of Carner avenue. Mrs. Fleel Baker, acting as Santa Claus, distributed the exchange gifts from a lighted tree.

Awards in Christmas contests went to Mrs. W. F. O'Brien and Mrs. Harry Haflich. Mrs. S. H. Shannon was given a handkerchief shower in observance of her birthday anniversary. Small lighted Christmas candles marked each place at the refreshments table. Mrs. W. H. Hanley, assisted by Mrs. Charles Winfield, will entertain the club at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Thursday, Jan. 11, at her home on Summit street.

Mrs. Edna Warner was a guest of the Chitter Chatter Euchre club when members met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Florence Tuttle of Foster Lane road.

The hostess won first honors for high score and the lone hand award. Second honors went to Mrs. Louise Fausnaugh and the third award and penny box were won by Mrs. Wilson Orr.

Mrs. Susie Woodcock, Mrs. Don Clark and Mrs. L. E. Reardon won prizes in cootie when Mrs. John Cudd entertained the Semper Idlem club yesterday afternoon at her home on Sharpless court. The afternoon was spent socially. Mrs. Olive Williams, a guest, assisted her mother in serving lunch.

NIGHT COUGHING CAN OFTEN BE PREVENTED

Your child's coughing at night—caused by throat "tickle" or irritation, mouth breathing, or a cold—can often be prevented by rubbing his throat and chest with plenty of Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. VapoRub's swift poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, clears air passages, tends to stop mouth breathing. This helps him relax into healing sleep. VICKS VAPORUB

To Relieve Bad Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

Swift Acting, and Saves Big Money. Easily Mixed.

You'll be surprised how quickly and easily you can relieve coughs due to colds, when you try this splendid recipe. It gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money, and you'll find it truly wonderful, for real relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a pint bottle. Add your syrup and you have a full pint of medicine that will amaze you by its quick action. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and tastes fine—children love it.

This simple mixture takes right hold of a cough. For real results, you've never seen anything better. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing.

Pinex is a compound, containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

NEED FOR REVIVAL CITED BY PASTOR

The glory of this nation today is owed to the Bible, Rev. D. N. Kelly declared in a revival sermon last night at Wesley Methodist church.

Services will be held tonight and Friday night at 7:30.

Last night Rev. Kelly said a revival is needed in the reading of the Bible, in home life and church attendance. "We need a revival that is permanent, not a passing excitement," Rev. Kelly said, citing the advantages of the Apostles' revival, Ezra's scriptural revival and Amos' economic revival.

Social Legislation Not Likely To Take Spotlight As Congress Meets Again

Unemployment and relief remain a vexing problem for congress. They are discussed, together with other probable social legislation, in the following article.

By H. R. INGRAHAM
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—Social legislation may be a somewhat subordinate theme in the final congressional session of President Roosevelt's second term.

The administration program in that field generally is regarded as about complete, and except for possible refinements, probably will not be stressed at the coming session of congress.

There are many indications, however, that the general subject will not be forgotten by the legislators. For instance:

1. Unemployment and relief remain major problems.

2. Proponents of bigger pensions for the aged still are vocal despite thumping defeats of plans of the "Ham and eggs" variety in California and Ohio elections.

3. President Roosevelt has suggested a program of federal aid for moderate cost hospitals which may be substituted, at least temporarily, for the more ambitious Wagner federal health program.

For the first time in at least three years, congress will not have an immediate relief deficit to meet when it gets back to work Jan. 3.

Won't Ask More Money

That appeared definite when Col. F. C. Harrington, works projects commissioner, announced that he would not seek additional funds to finance the relief program until June 30 but would operate with the money appropriated last summer.

In contrast, when congress convened last January, the administration asked for an additional $875,000,000 to tide the WPA over the balance of the fiscal year. After two attempts, congress finally voted $825,000,000.

Harrington's declaration that his organization would live within its budget was received with enthusiasm on Capitol Hill — and some blunt criticism.

Rep. Woodrum (D-Va.), acting chairman of the committee which handles WPA appropriations, hailed it as vindication of the changes congress made in the relief set-up last summer.

"With the marked increase in business in all lines," Woodrum added, "There's every reason to anticipate that the relief load in the new fiscal year should be materially lightened."

There have been reports that President Roosevelt would hold his estimates for relief down to about $1,100,000,000 for the year starting July 1 in contrast to the $2,580,000,000 voted at the last regular session for all relief purposes. Woodrum asserted, however, there was no particular hurry about fixing that figure and Mr. Roosevelt may include only a tentative estimate in his regular budget message to congress.

Rep. Coffee (D-Wash.), told reporters he thought "chaos and despair" would result if the administration sought to cut relief funds to $1,000,000,000.

"State relief set-ups just can't handle the problem," Coffee said.

"The situation would be particularly bad in the west, for whatever recovery there has been in the eastern industrial areas has not yet been felt in the west."

Demands for return of administration of relief to the states and possible reopening of a house committee's investigation of the WPA were other potential causes of congressional fireworks. The United States Chamber of Commerce already has renewed the plea for return of relief to the states on ground that the expense of the present program would wreck the country economically if prolonged.

The WPA investigating committee has had its agents at work in many states since its public hearings were suspended and informed members said a wealth of material, mostly derogatory, had been accumulated.

Whether the information will be brought out at further public hearings or incorporated in a report to congress has not been decided, members said.

Social Security Changes

On the question of further changes in the social security law, members of the house committee which recommended extensions in the program—many of which go into effect next month—contended the revisions should be given a chance to operate before any further alterations are attempted.

Informed legislators expressed belief that organized drives for larger old age pensions would not get far in the next session of congress. They conceded, however, attempts probably will be made to broaden the old age insurance provisions such as extending their coverage to agricultural and domestic workers.

The hospitalization plan was put forward by Mr. Roosevelt who suggests that hospitals costing about $150,000 each be built in 50 selected poorer areas. The American Medical association, which said it had opposed the "grandiose" plan of the health bill, proposed by Senator Wagner (D-NY) approved the hospitalization idea for areas in which need could be shown.

WELFARE LEVY VOTED BY CUYAHOGA COUNTY

Tax Issue Passes by 70.6 Per Cent Majority.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 28—Cuyahoga county's relief machinery ran smoother today with approval of a 3.4-mill welfare levy dumping a potential $5,300,000 into the 1940 supply tank.

The countywide levy, needing 65 per cent for passage, received 70.6, the unofficial vote on yesterday's special election being 63,724 to 27,720.

A similar proposal was defeated at the November election, a few weeks before Cleveland's relief crisis. Although the approval does not directly affect care of the city's 65,000 direct relief clients, Mayor Harold H. Burton said he was "much gratified" over its passage.

"If it had not passed, a great additional burden might have been thrown upon the city in its share of the county relief cases," the mayor declared.

The levy is designed to finance the county's statutory obligations to more than 40,000 persons, including care of tubercular patients, the blind, insane and feeble minded, indigent sick, neglected or crippled children, the aged, mothers eligible for mothers' pensions, paupers permanently unable to work and families on soldiers' and sailors' relief.

But the left-sided hearts, 18 per cent of the people, are most likely to have coronary heart trouble. Detection of this coronary pattern, Dr. Schlesinger said, would be an important diagnosis.

Thus far, he said, it has not been possible to tell by examination of living persons which type of piping they have. But, he said, it is hoped that the electrocardiograph, the instrument which records all the tremors of a heart, may give different patterns to reveal the piping differences.

Scientist Suggests Test for Byrd

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 28 — A suggestion that Admiral Richard E. Byrd experiment with the heat-generating powers of the sun by scattering coal dust from antarctic mines over the south pole regions was made here today.

In a report before the American Meteorological society, meeting in conjunction with the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. Helmut Landsberg of Pennsylvania State college declared that coal dust in a film one-fiftieth of an inch thick would absorb 90 per cent of the sun's rays. Ice itself absorbs only 10 per cent of the sun's radiation, reflecting away the other 90 per cent.

While the idea may seem fantastic when applied to the polar regions it would make an excellent experiment to add to the scientific work of the Byrd expedition now enroute to Little America, he declared, and on a small scale it has proved practical. Blocks of ice covered with coal dust on an average winter day melted entirely within four hours while uncovered blocks shrank only 15 per cent.

An immediate practical application is already undergoing experiments on the highways of Pennsylvania. In addition to cinders placed on mountain grades to prevent skidding the thin coal dust film—waste coal from Pennsylvania mines—is also being laid down. It has already proved efficient on test strips in preventing ice formation during the daytime.

the matter later in the day.

"We'll probably try to negotiate with railroad officials to have watchmen at the crossings 24 hours a day but I can't say for sure until I've consulted the city solicitor," Mr. Caldwell said.

Mr. Caldwell said he had been informed by city maintenance employes that approaches to the Main street crossings and all other railroad crossings in the uptown district had been covered with salt yesterday as a precaution against skidding.

Miss Doyle was born in Galion Sept. 29, 1909 to Richard L. Doyle, a native of Dayton, and Margaret Tierney Doyle, a native of Galion. The family came here from Galion in 1914.

Miss Doyle was a member of St. Mary Catholic church and was graduated from Harding High school in 1927. For several years she was employed as a clerk at the Ungericht drug stores, first at the store at Hotel Harding and later at the drug store on East Center street. She had been a telephone operator at the hotel since last March.

Surviving with the parents is a brother, Richard L. Doyle Jr. of Brooklyn, N. Y.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

President Roosevelt in embarking on his peace drive is tackling a task which was tried unsuccessfully by his predecessor, President Woodrow Wilson, during the World war under circumstances considerably like those existing now.

Mr. Wilson and Pope Benedict cooperated in efforts to end the conflict, as are Mr. Roosevelt and Pope Pius. F.D.R., however, would appear to have put the operation on a business-like basis by sending Myron C. Taylor to the Vatican as ambassador without portfolio, and at the same time secure the support of the Jewish, Protestant and Catholic churches in America.

Some observers believe they see possible help to the cause in the historic visit of his holiness to the Italian king and queen today. These observers feel that this ceremony, which draws the church and state into closer relations, may mean cooperation between the Vatican and the government towards peace efforts. Fascist authorities, however, said there had been no coordination of foreign policy.

Wilson's Difficulty

An unsurmountable difficulty which President Wilson and Pope Benedict encountered was that neither the allies nor the central powers were willing to quit short of a decisive military victory. A negotiated peace didn't interest them. Finally, in April of 1917, we ourselves joined the allies.

In effect the Anglo-French allies and Germany are in much the same position today. To be sure there is a much greater leaning of the populations towards peace but the governments of both sides are disposed to try each other's fighting strength thoroughly before resorting to the conference table.

There is another striking similarity in a matter which I venture to say may prove to be the kernel of the nut which our President and his holiness will have to crack. I refer to the attitudes of the allies, then and now, towards the respective German governments.

Let's get the thing in the words of President Woodrow Wilson's reply on August 27, 1917 to Pope Benedict's peace inquiries. This was after we had entered the war, of course. Mr. Wilson said:

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting. Without such guarantees treaties of settlement if made with the German government, no man, no nation could now depend on."

Armistice Follows Revolt

Prince Max of Baden formed a new government on the basis of Wilson's fourteen peace points. Revolution broke out in early November. The republic was proclaimed. The Kaiser fled. And then came the armistice.

It is important to note that the new German government was formed on the basis of fourteen specific points which were sufficiently satisfactory to the people of Germany so that they were prepared to forsake their rulers.

Mr. Wilson didn't lay down his points until Jan. 8, 1918, long after we were in the war. One wonders how the German people would have reacted had those points been placed before them, say in 1916, when dire want first hit them hard.

It is a tremendous task on which President Roosevelt and Pope Pius, with their supporters, are working. One assumes that it contemplates the selection of the right time to strike formally for peace, and the preparation of a formula which will satisfy, not necessarily the wills of governments, but the wills of their peoples.

It is the people who will make the peace in the long run. If the governments agree, so much the better.

FRENCH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACK

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec. 28—French troops repulsed two German attacks yesterday, in one instance in a hand-to-hand combat, during a day of heightened patrol activity described by military sources today as extending the length of the north flank of the western front.

The first German action started in the morning in an offensive against a hamlet between the Saar river and the Vosges mountains.

The second raid started an hour later in the same vicinity with artillery and mortar barrages. Directed against the French advance posts, the German troops were driven to hand-to-hand fighting before being forced to retire as the French held the post intact, military advices said.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—W. Alton Jones, first vice president of the billion-dollar Cities Service Co., is slated to succeed the late Henry L. Doherty as chief executive of the vast oil and utility system, it was predicted in well informed quarters today. He had been acting in that capacity under Doherty's guidance during the long illness of the president.

NAZIS BLAME ALLIES IN FINNISH WAR

Berlin Sees Plot To Deprive Her of Russian Supplies.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Dec. 28—The mouthpiece of the German foreign office charged today that Great Britain and France had deliberately incited Finland to resist Soviet Russia to upset northern Europe and thus interfere with the regular flow of supplies to Germany.

The semi-official commentary Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz said that "from the moment it became certain that Russia was not willing to pull chestnuts out of the fire for the western powers the efforts of these powers centered on bringing about complications in the north.

"On one hand it seemed desirable to engage Russia there with her military and material resources; on the other it was considered worth trying, through the resulting confusion, to interfere with the possibilities of supplying Germany from this area which cannot be blockaded."

The allies have no idealistic interest in Finland, Korrespondenz declared, but merely are using her for their own purposes.

The mouthpiece argued that the ouster of Russia from the League of Nations and the League decision to coordinate aid for Finland was part of the allied plan but that neither Britain nor France intended to offer active help.

tume were violets at the neckline.

Among the many stunning gowns chosen by the matrons was one in a bittersweet shade, the bodice of which was tucked, with a square neckline and gold trim sleeves. With this the owner wore a single orchid. An egg-shell taffeta gown had shoulder straps and bodice of crystal beads, and worn with a smart fringe-trimmed black gown was a corsage of roses and violets. A lace headdress gave a Spanish accent to a black costume trimmed with white and another equally smart ensemble was of black crepe with turquoise bead trim. One of the younger matrons chose black with a gardenia corsage and a single flower atop her blond head.

Coach Opposes Athletic Aid To College Dullards

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—Prof. L. C. Boles of Wooster college today recommended that, "at the risk of being classed as a reformer," the College Physical Education association "should stand firmly against the tendency of using our physical education departments as a field for men of very limited mental capacity to matriculate and continue in college for the purpose of playing on the varsity teams."

Prof. Boles spoke as president of the association in opening its annual meeting. He also spoke from a background of 32 years of football coaching, the last 27 at Wooster, here he resigned at the end of the 1939 season to take over the position of director of athletics.

"Learning the important skills of our varsity games," he said, "should not be accepted as the grand total of a college education. We should not have one course set up so that one with such a limited mental capacity could continue as a college student.

"Recently I went through the catalogue of a college in the middle west of some 1,500 students in which the physical education department offered a total of 85 term-hour credits in that department alone. With a staff of four or five men carrying on a non-credit intercollegiate and intramural program, it seems to be entirely impossible to give worthwhile work to this extent."

Prof. Boles pointed out that a recent magazine article reported 60 per cent of the football squad of a large university was enrolled in the physical education course.

"Having been a football coach for 33 years, 25 of these spent in college coaching, I must not close my eyes to the danger of the evils of intercollegiate football undermining the position of physical education in the estimation of educators of our colleges...

"The National Collegiate Athletic association is this year taking steps to attack the evil practices of subsidization and proselyting. By raising our standards for teaching physical education by requiring a broad background in other phases of education, we can do much to help our athletic organizations in their efforts to clean up intercollegiate athletics."

BUND SECRETARY HELD

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—James Wheeler-Hill, secretary of the German American bund, was arrested today on an indictment charging him with perjury in the second degree, a misdemeanor. The indictment contained three counts which cites 15 examples of alleged contradictory statements made by Wheeler-Hill to the grand jury during an inquiry into the affairs of Fritz Kuhn, bund leader, now in Sing Sing prison on his conviction of a larceny charge.

SHIP SURVIVORS LAND

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 28—The Royal mail lines announced today that eight survivors of the British cargo liner Navasota, sunk in the Atlantic Dec. 8, had landed Christmas day at Capetown, South Africa. Two others died aboard the rescue steamer. The captain and 34 others were missing after the 8,795-ton vessel sank in eight minutes. Survivors said she was torpedoed.

SANDUSKY, O., Dec. 28—V. J. Moore of Sandusky, today succeeded Jacob Turrie as chief clerk and quartermaster of Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' home here. Turrie resigned yesterday.

OPINIONS SOUGHT ON CCC CAMP PROJECT

Landowners To Be Sounded Out by Officials.

Study of the general opinion among landowners in connection with a proposal to establish a CCC conservation corps in Marion county was begun today in outlying sections by members of the Township Trustees and Clerks association, who have been instrumental in launching a movement in behalf of the program.

Meeting that night in the office of County Engineer Carl H. Tozzer, representatives of the association discussed plans to study the needs and desires of landowners of the county. They will report their findings early next week. Upon their findings will depend further efforts to get a CCC camp.

Reluctant to make definite statements officials reported they anticipate the study will reveal "a general acceptance and willingness to cooperate," among rural property owners. The survey is being handled by members of the association to determine the "need and desire," for a CCC camp.

Findings will be forwarded, probably by letter, to the conservation division of the United States department of agriculture office at Lima. Local officials visiting there last week learned that conditions are "extremely favorable" for the establishment of a camp here. Several Ohio camps are to be moved in the near future and counties which show a need for them will likely be selected for new locations, they were informed.

ITALIANS VOLUNTEER FOR FINNISH WAR

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 28 — An Exchange Telegraph (British News agency) dispatch from Helsinki today said it was reported without confirmation that 2,000 Italian volunteers had arrived at Tornio to fight for Finland against Soviet Russia.

Tornio is a Finnish port at the head of the Gulf of Bothnia.

By The Associated Press

OSLO, Dec. 28 — A "Nordic division" composed of Scandinavian volunteers is being formed for the Finnish army, the Norwegian telegram bureau said today.

Many Norwegians are offering their services for this unit and are to be sent shortly to Finland via Sweden. Only experienced winter sportsmen and ski experts are accepted. Their skis, clothing and weapons are being supplied by private subscriptions.

ASTRONOMERS OPEN DELAWARE MEETING

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Dec. 28 — Papers covering a variety of astronomical subjects were read today at the meeting here of the American Astronomical society.

The meeting opened last night with a meeting of the council of the society at Austin hall, where the visitors are staying during the meeting.

Dr. N. T. Bobrovnikoff, director of Perkins observatory south of Delaware and official host, is being assisted by Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington Jr. and Dr. J. Allen Hynek, both of the observatory staff.

The meeting will close Friday with a morning session at Perkins observatory and an afternoon meeting on the Ohio State university campus.

An estimated seven trillion cubic feet of natural gas has been used from the Texas Panhandle field since its discovery.

MRS. E. L. ZINK OF GALION DIES

Special to The Star

GALION, O., Dec. 28 — Mrs. Grace Raymond Zink of Galion, wife of Edgar L. Zink and well known in Galion business and social circles, died yesterday at Grant hospital in Columbus. She was admitted to the hospital last Thursday for observation and treatment.

For many years she assisted her father, the late William H. Raymond, in the management of the Raymond Coal company.

On Sept. 21, 1935, she was married to Edgar L. Zink of Chicago, a former Crestline resident, and following their marriage they lived in Chicago, until May, 1938, when they returned to the Raymond home here.

BRITISH REPORT NEW AIR BATTLE

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 28—The air ministry today announced a "successful reconnaissance" flight over northwestern Germany from which one British plane failed to return.

It was not clear whether this flight was the same as that which the minister earlier said resulted in successes over three German Dornier bombers and disabling of a German patrol ship. The bombers were said to have been "damaged and silenced."

At least one direct bomb hit was made on the patrol vessel near the German coast, the ministry said, the plane escaping despite heavy fire from German vessels, including several destroyers.

Accurate gunfire of the British was credited with breaking up a fight circling maneuver of the Dorniers and putting them out of commission. A bomb aimed at a Dornier in a third engagement "narrowly missed," said the air ministry.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald George of near Cardington are parents of a daughter born Wednesday afternoon at City hospital.

A son was born this morning at City hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nickison of 619 North Main street.

P E N GUARD KILLED BY CONDEMNED MEN

By The Associated Press

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 28 — A 65-year-old guard was bludgeoned to death on state prison's death row early today in what Superintendent Oscar Pitts described as a desperate escape attempt by two Negroes already under sentence to die for murder.

Pitts said the Negroes, Clarence Rogers and William Young, confessed they bound and gagged the guard, J. S. Chesser, and fatally beat him, hoping to gain their way to freedom.

Chesser's body was found about 1 a. m.

Young was scheduled to die in the gas chamber tomorrow for a murder and burglary committed in Hoke county. Rogers was awaiting supreme court action upon his appeal from a murder conviction in Durham county.

U. S. ADMIRAL DIES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28—Rear Admiral Julius C. Townsend, commandant of the Fourth naval district with headquarters at Philadelphia, died today at the Brooklyn N. Y., naval hospital. Surviving is his widow, Mrs. Martha Townsend.

EARTHQUAKE

take personal charge of the hastily mobilized relief organization. Other members of the government were joining them.

Army units stationed at various centers in the quake area rushed to the communities worst hit to help dig into the ruins for bodies and fight the flames.

Appeals for Funds

Parliament in an emergency session set up a commission to make a worldwide appeal for funds.

Destruction had coursed rampant from populous coastal cities to villages nestled in the mountains fringing the Black sea.

Some of the stricken towns still bore the scars of more than a week of earth tremors in April, 1938, and subsequent shocks in September and November, this year. Some 800 lives were lost in the April, 1938, disaster. The earthquake history of Anatolia is long.

The districts of Erzincan and Kemah were hardest hit in the latest disaster. The Black sea towns of Samsun and Ordu were pictured as vistas of shattered buildings in the reports filtering through to Ankara. Samsun, about 200 miles northeast of Ankara, has a population of 33,000.

Another large city reported heavily damaged is Sivas, about 200 miles east of Ankara, nestling in the hollow of two mountain ranges near the head of the Kizil Irmak river. It has a population of 34,000.

Fear-stricken townspeople fled their rumbled homes and spent the night in open fields, numbed by the north winds across the Baltic from the Russian steppes.

The flaring torches of the rescue parties provided ghastly illumination for the scenes of devastation. Railway tracks and bridges were twisted and broken. Water mains and power lines in the more populous places were snapped. Fear-maddened cattle stampeded in farming communities.

The first of yesterday morning's four shocks came at 2 a. m. (7 p. m., Tuesday, Marion time) the last quivering of the earth from the final quake was recorded at 5 a. m.

Anatolia is another name for Asia Minor, western peninsula of Asia between the Black and Mediterranean seas, separated from Europe by the straits of the Bosporous and Dardanelles and the sea of Marmara.

The structure of the land is volcanic. Mountain ranges border Anatolia and the interior consists of a series of plateaus with bare steppes, salt plains, marshes and lakes. Anatolia's area is 193,500 square miles; its population some 9,000,000.

ATHENS CO. ASKS FOR SOUP KITCHENS

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, O., Dec. 28—President Roosevelt was asked today to send army soup kitchens to Athens county, leaders of 6,250 needy persons telegraphing him that the kitchens "are our only hope."

"Relief situation in Athens county very acute. Clients in dire need of food, fuel and clothing. Governor Bricker as usual says there are plenty of funds. Commissioners say county relief setup broke," the telegram read in part. It was signed by Lott Bricker, jobless coal miner, and three other members of a recently organized group of unemployed.

Some Ideas for a New Year's Party

Cracked wheat, rye and white breads—and any others you choose—set out beside many kinds of sandwich fillings. From there on leave it up to the guests.

MAKE-YOUR-OWN SANDWICH BAR

[illegible] of sliced white bread, [illegible] sliced wheat or cracked [illegible] bread; 1 loaf sliced rye [illegible]; compartmentful ½ pound [illegible]; ½ pound sliced ham, [illegible] pound liverwurst, [illegible] pound cooked tongue, [illegible] pound Swiss cheese, [illegible] pound cream cheese; [illegible] Russian dressing; [illegible] relishes.

Have sliced bread on hostess [illegible] on either side of a large [illegible] board leave center section [illegible] for spreading. In several [illegible] dishes, or in separate sections [illegible] compartment dish, place softened butter, cream cheese, [illegible] Russian dressing, [illegible] pickles (mustard, pickles [illegible] horseradish, pepper [illegible] olives, or whatever you [illegible]. Attach electric table grill [illegible] if desired—and let guests concoct their own sandwich combinations.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Writer

YOUR New Year's party will be much more fun if you keep it quite informal. Let the guests fill their own plates and sit where they please. You may have to stir up the groups, occasionally, to keep the conversation moving and varied.

A well-equipped and cleverly decorated table for serving will get the party off to a good start.

Try this new Sugar Plum tree for the center—or one end—of the refreshment table. Fit a small Christmas tree into a base, and set it inside a holly wreath on the table. Trim the tree with gumdrop festoons, sugar-coated cocoa cut-outs and holiday goodies decked out in red, green, silver and gold foils. Deck it with 10-inch candied pop-corn balls you might tint the syrup with fruit colorings. This edible tree should last throughout the party, unless people start nibbling.

Resolve to serve something new at your party. These shrimp surprises are grand. Mix ½ cup chopped shrimp, 1-3 cup minced celery, 1 teaspoon each of chopped pickles, olives and pimientos. Stir in 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, ½ teaspoon lemon juice and ½ teaspoon minced parsley. Tuck in split tiny hot cheesed biscuits. There is enough shrimp mixture for about 20 tiny biscuits. This tidbit goes deliciously with hot or cold beverages or cocktails.

If you received one of those new bun warmers for Christmas, keep it filled up with these treats. Spread buttered bread slices with chopped ham and cream cheese (equal portions), flavor with a little chopped onions, dill pickles and green peppers. Moisten slightly with salad dressing. Arrange sandwich fashion and toast. Cut into thin strips and serve hot. Maybe your electric toaster can turn these out right at the table.

For another smart blend for sandwiches or canapes make this tongue spread: Chop tongue very fine, mix in one-fourth as much finely chopped celery, a little chopped onion, parsley and ripe Olives. Rub a bowl with garlic and add the tongue mixture; thin with salad dressing or mayonnaise. Then liverwurst, mashed until soft and thinned with a very little cream makes a filling or topping especially liked by men guests. Put it on rye bread.

Use up the last of the holiday cakes and cookies for the sweet snacks. Fresh, well done salted peanuts will provide the needed crunchy foods. You know you can make your own salted peanuts at quite a nominal cost, and they are delicious.

Of course all the lights should be candles. Decorate the bases of the holders with greenery. And don't forget to dress up all the serving trays and baskets with their share of holiday finery.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Mary Promises to Get Olina Out of the Way So Madge Can See Olga.

I KNEW that Mary was brimming over with curiosity as to what I wanted of her so early in the morning. But she restrained herself nobly, and when she had given me a mock salute and intoned, "Private Mary Veritzen reporting for duty," she sat down in the chair opposite me and waited demurely for me to speak.

There was no delaying the issue, and I went directly to the point.

"Can you guarantee to keep Princess Olina constantly in your company this morning for a half hour following her dressing and meeting you?" I asked.

She made a wry little grimace.

On Her Trail All Day

"If she's in the same form she's been manifesting the last few days," she said, "I can't do anything else but. She's on my trail almost every minute of the waking day. But do you mean I'm to make the advances this morning?"

"I mean exactly that," I told her. "It is necessary that I interview Queen Olga this morning, and it is equally necessary that her daughter not only be out of earshot, but shut out from all knowledge that the queen and I are talking to each other. Can you arrange to get Olina out of the house within the next hour, and keep her there until I come strolling out and pass the time of day with you?"

"I wish all my tasks were as easy as this one," Mary said. "As it happens, I ran dash Olina ragged on the tennis court yesterday, and she told me last night that she wanted her revenge this morning. So all I have to do is to awaken her and dare her to come out and play. But that will awaken her mother, too."

Olina Has Appointment

"That's what I want," I said. "And you'll have to go about your task at once. I happen to know that Olina has an appointment with Philip Veritzen at half after ten this morning, so you won't be able to keep her playing after that hour."

"She'll be ready to call it a day long before then," she said, and I knew it was no idle boast she was uttering, for Mary is family tennis champion. "But Auntie Madge"—her eyes were suddenly troubled—"Why does she want to talk to Father Veritzen this morning? I'll bet she's trying to have that rehearsal staged for today."

"I don't know what's she trying," I said a little grimly, "but I know she has no chance of succeeding. There will be no rehearsal until 1:30 tomorrow."

She drew a long sigh of relief and turned toward the door.

"I'll just go over and awaken Olina, invite her very sweetly to have breakfast with me, and promise her a tennis revenge. And when I get her on the way outdoors, I'll stop in here for a second on some pretext, so you'll know she's going to be safely tethered to the tennis court."

"I knew I could count on you," I told her gratefully. As she put her hand upon the doorknob I gave her a hurried parting admonition.

"I need not warn you that you know nothing of any interview between Queen Olga and me," I said, "and also that you must be much surprised to see your father-in-law."

"I'll remember," she promised with a gay wave of her hand. And then she was gone and I sat down to marshall my thoughts for my coming interview with Queen Olga.

It was a formidable as well as a distasteful task, one which would have to be handled with tact and delicacy, and I feared that I was deficient in both qualities. Even if I had not had to face the fact that I was betraying a confidence of Philip Veritzen's, I knew that it was a ticklish thing to advise a queen, even an exiled one, upon the subject of her reaction to the suit of an ardent wooer.

I was pacing the floor frantically when Mary's knock sounded on the door. I pulled myself together and forced a casual smile to my lips as I opened it to see Mary and Olina in tennis attire with their racquets in their hands.

"Dear Mrs. Graham," Olina said prettily, "Would you mind going over to see Maman? She told me she wanted to see you very much, and she does not feel up to getting dressed just yet."

One Is Beloved

BY LOUISE PLATT HAUCK

YESTERDAY: Bob continues to accept generous favors from Cecily, unable to resisting a comfortable life, and Sue, Bob's wife, sees problems ahead.

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO
Sue's Temper

"WELL, don't let's think of Cecily tonight, dear. We're having such a lovely evening—"

"You may not," Bob's confidence in the premium daily secured her of lack of sympathy with him, "but I'm not getting the undivided use of a man's arm in my mind. Look, why do we stay on here anyway? Let's sell the house and go East. They've been writing me it's the best office you know. Let's shake the dust of this place off our shoes and go find us another house some where on 'Long Island.'"

Sue's heart gave a leap at this. Never to see Cecily again, never to hear that silvery voice! But a moment's thought always called her to vote the move gently.

"You know as well as I do, Bob darling, she'll follow us. Her people are there, she's told everyone that she's going East when she gets tired of St. Joseph. Any day now she'll grow bored with us and she's bound to be. You know that."

Yes, Bob knew that, and after a certain amount of exasperated argument he always agreed with Sue. But not before he had done his best to hurt her, she thought. Oh, not before he had unerringly said those things which set her heart beating with actual pain.

"If you loved me the way I love you a hundred Cecilys wouldn't bother me. I'd laugh in their faces! It's knowing that down in your heart you despise me for deceiving you—"

"Bob, I don't despise you. Don't be silly!"

"Well, you don't love me! Or," he added with unexpected perspicacity, "you aren't in love with me, Sue—you never have been. You're fond of me, and you graciously allow me to adore the ground you walk on but as for anything else, it's simply not there!"

She grew a little pale. "Bob, that's not fair! I love you as much as I have it in me to love any man. If it's not what you expected it it doesn't satisfy you, I can't help it. I told you before we were married. I warned you—"

"Sue, Sue, don't cry! I'm a brute. I ought to be taken out and shot. You love me a thousand times more than I deserve. It's only—only that sometimes I feel that I don't really have you at all. Sue, that it's only your body, your—affection I hold in my arms; that the real you is off somewhere I can't follow. It drives me mad—that feeling!" He would have her crushed close to him now, holding her so tightly she could scarcely breathe.

Usually she poured out words of loving reassurance; but one sultry night in August when he had been more than ordinary irritable, she said:

"Do you think you're taking the best way to find the real me, as you call it? I know this summer has been a trying time for you, Bob, but it's been difficult for me, too. I've done my best to make things easy for you. I've gone out with you when I'd a million times rather have stayed at home. And I've cancelled engagements at the last minute when it meant embarrassing apologies and explanations which didn't explain. After all, why should I have to be the one to soothe, and be tactful, and suit my life to yours? I'm not responsible for Cecily's being here!"

It was the first time she had allowed her temper, that quick flashing temper which had been the demon of her childhood before she had learned to control it, to burst into words. Bob's jaw sagged ludicrously.

"Sue—why, Sue!"

"You're behaving like a child, Bob!" she went on. "If you hadn't made it perfectly apparent to Cecily that she can bait you successfully, she'd have tired of the game and gone East long ago. When are you going to grow up and meet her as she should be met: with a smoothly impervious surface to her references to a past which, according to you, is wholly non-existent?"

Broken Enchantment

He burst into a shout of laughter.

"Heaven defend the right, hear the child! You're actually scolding me, Sue, you're ragging me who held the key to her locked heart!

He knew she was faithful to him with every breath she drew, he must believe that, or such a fool should make her appeal to him. But there was always that thing of his being just more than anything in the world he longed to be free from himself to enter into the splendor and the glory of knowing that his wife's passionate and utter devotion.

Hospital

"Sue Sweet Sue, wake up!"

It was not yet midnight, and Sue had barely sunk off when Bob's voice and his gentle hand on her shoulder awakened her.

"Sue, Alice Adams calling from the hospital."

She sat up in bed and pushed the hair out from her forehead. "Alice?"

She repeated. Adam says if you can, he'd like you to come. She'll want to go, sweet?"

"Of course." She flung back the light cover and began taking clothes from drawer and closet. "You're all dressed, Bob. Haven't you been to bed at all?"

"I was just going when the telephone rang. We have the car around by the time you're ready, sweetie. No need to hurry on my account. Poor old Alice! Sorry as I am to interrupt Adam says—"

Nevertheless he drove it to the hospital at a speed high. Alice was in a waiting room, pale and miserable. He greeted her rather unsympathetically.

"I don't believe that fool of a Baker knows enough to handle a case like this. I've a mind to ask Van Ness to come."

Sue slipped her hand through his arm. "You can't do that, Adam. After all, Leif Baker has been practicing for several years. Don't think Peg would like that. She can't be unreasonable!"

"He wouldn't say so if he did!" Alice's voice rasped with anxiety. "You know how they all talk. Everything going along nicely, nothing whatever to worry about."

But as though I hadn't the brains God gave a rocker!"

In spite of herself Sue smiled. "Really, what would you want him to say? That something is going wrong or maybe in Peg's case is not? Sit down, poor old boy, it will probably be hours and hours before we have any news."

"Yes, that's what he said," Alice admitted. He relaxed somewhat under her coaxing, permitted her to push him to a chair. "We haven't done any eating at all, we haven't walked, they ordered for more cigarettes. Said we make cocktails."

"I expect she'll come out all right." Bob patted him. "Most women do nowadays."

That was the beginning of a vigil which lasted all night and most of the next day. Peg was not for from death all right, it appeared. The child for she had for months resisted the motherly love, and when instrumentals had to be resorted to at last in the afternoon, Alice's son was stillborn.

St. Mary Cage Team Defeated by Lancaster, 32 to 26

Marion Players Bow To Their Coach's Home School; Honored at Dinner.

By CHARLES HOSTETLER
Marion Star Sports Editor

Failing in an attempt to prevent history from repeating itself, Marion St. Mary cagemen bowed to Lancaster St. Mary, their coach's home school, 32-26, in a duel on the victors' home floor last night which was a repetition of an earlier meeting just a year ago on the Fairfield county court.

After the first minute when a free throw by Ted Schuler gave Marion a lead which was erased by Jack Malone's fielder, the Lancaster Saints held command. They led 8-7 at the quarter, 17-12 at intermission and 27-20 going into the final lap.

The game marked a renewal of athletic relationships between the schools, begun a year ago when Coach Bernard Berens first stacked his proteges up against a band of stalwarts tutored by his own scholastic mentor, Coach Clarence Joos. The clubs broke even last year, each winning on the home court, and Marion's crew returned with a determination to stop their friendly rivals when they return the visit Feb. 23.

A large home crowd was on hand, only a handful of Marion people braving the icy highways to follow their favorites. The team made the 85-mile trip by bus, leaving here yesterday afternoon at 2 and returning 12 hours later. Again the entire party was feted at a banquet following the game.

Lancaster's ball-hawking and accuracy on field goal attempts were two big factors that weighed heavily against Marion. The home club played in aggressive style. From the moment they first gained a lead, Marion dribblers fought back valiantly in an effort to overtake their rivals. At one point in the third period Lancaster held a 12-point lead, but the locals whittled the advantage to four tallies in the final round.

Lancaster was in front 30-20 with but four minutes to play when Ray Robbins' close range tally and another by Frank Terzo cut the margin to 30-24. Terzo looped in a second try but the officials ruled that he touched the out-of-bounds line as he made the toss. As the fray came to a frenzied finish Ted Schuler flipped in a one-arm throw from the side to slash Lancaster's lead to four markers.

Return Game Set

Coach Joos' men did an excellent job of hanging onto the ball in the closing seconds and just as the final bell sounded Center Hill threw a long shot that was ruled good by the officials.

It was a hard fought battle and assured those who saw it that Marion fans will be for a similar treat when the quintets meet again here in February. The Marion Saints close their holiday schedule with a visit to the Claridon court, Friday night, where they will stalk Coach A. B. Augenstein's unbeaten county combine.

The summary:

Marion—26	G	F	Lancaster—32	G	F
Terzo, f	3	6	Malone, f	2	2
Schuler, f	2	4	Henry, f	0	0
Murphy, f	0	0	Foreman, f	4	1

OHIO CAGERS LOSE 2 ON FOREIGN FLOORS

State Drops Before Kentucky, Scranton Tops Akron.

By The Associated Press

Ohio college teams fared badly in basketball competition on foreign floors last night, Ohio State losing to Kentucky, 36 to 30, and Akron dropping a 46 to 30 decision to Scranton.

In the state's only home game, Toledo upset Cornell, 45 to 29, for its 10th victory in 11 starts.

Kentucky beat the Buckeyes at New Orleans in the Sugar Bowl classic before 7,000 fans. The Bucks led at half time, 20 to 19, fell behind early in the second half and then climbed within two points of the Wildcats in the closing minutes.

The lead changed hands several times in the first half, with State's 18 to 15 lead being the widest margin. Center Bill Sattler, who paced the Bucks with 13 points, dropped in a one-handed field goal just before the first half closed to account for Ohio's intermission edge.

State used 12 players and Kentucky only seven. It was Kentucky's third victory of the season and State's first setback in four games.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan and Alice Marble took all important tennis doubles titles.

Maria Belito Jepson Turner, 16-year-old blonde skater, came over from England and was a hit on U. S. rinks.

Sydna Yokley, 17, added glamour to New York's rodeo. The tiny Texan's act was a calf-roping 'routine'.

Betty Jameson from Texas won the women's national golf title in '39.

Marjorie Gestring, one of the many beauties appearing in swimming contests, was platform diving champ.

Helen Crlenkovich, beauteous San Francisco competitor, won the 10-foot springboard diving championship—and a movie screen test.

Femininity invaded even football. This is Tackle Dotty Doerr, who played for a Los Angeles high school girls' team.

Fans Flock To Sugar Bowl

Tennis on Today; Tulane-Texas Aggie Grid Game Coming New Year's Day.

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28—Many of the world's top-flight tennis players took the stage today as thousands of visitors poured into gay New Orleans from all over the nation for the star-studded events of the Sugar Bowl sports carnival.

New Orleans, ever ready for hilarity, took on the festive air of Mardi Gras as tennis competition got under way with such netters as Bobby Riggs and Charles Hare, No. 1 players of the United States and England, respectively, on hand.

The program opened formally last night when the University of Kentucky Wildcats won a second Sugar Bowl basketball championship by defeating the Ohio State Buckeyes, 36 to 30, in a fast and rough but cleanly played game. The Wildcats defeated Pittsburgh in the game here two years ago.

Although chief interest centered on the Tulane-Texas Aggie football game which will attract 70,000 spectators New Year's day other sports besides basketball and tennis will claim attention.

In the track competition set for Sunday will be an all-star cast of nationally-known athletes, headed by the veteran Glenn Cunningham, the ace Kansas miler who established a record here of 4:10.7 last January 1.

Interspersed in with these major sports events are boxing and rowing.

The odds on the outcome of the Texas Aggie-Tulane Green Wave game remained even and early-arriving Texas fans figured that a "break" for them. Few if any points were being asked and Texans were ready to tell you the Aggies were set to knock off the wave.

LOTSHAW MAKES HIT

Former Marionite To Aid Children at Charity Home.

Andy Lotshaw, who played with the Marion team in the old Ohio State league over a score of years ago, has made a hit with the youngsters at a Des Moines, Ia., charity home, The Associated Press reported today. Lotshaw, now trainer for the Chicago Cubs, will entertain the two boys with the best records for the school year in Chicago next summer.

WYANDOT CO. CAGERS WAIT FOR NEW YEAR

Wharton on Top as Season Nears Mid-Point.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 28—Resting during the school vacation period, Wyandot county league teams will renew their fight for loop laurels with a full program Jan. 5, which will mark completion of the first round of activity.

Wharton, riding high, wide and handsome with six consecutive victories, is eyeing the field with the hope of repeating as county champion. The Dragons edged Marseilles, 29-28, last week and need only a win over the second division Eden outfit to boast a victory against every league member.

Harpster hopped into undisputed second place, ekeing out a 27-26 decision over Salem, sending the latter club down to third place. Next week's schedule sends Eden to Wharton, Harpster to Sycamore, McCutchenville to Salem and Marseilles to Nevada.

League standings follow:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Wharton	6	0	1,000
Harpster	5	1	.833
Salem	4	2	.667

MARYSVILLE TIGERS TOP HOUSE OF DAVID

Bearded Cagers Kept Out of Marion by Weather.

Weather and first class competition dealt a double blow to the House of David basketball team, scheduled for an exhibition appearance here last night. The bearded dribblers, coming in from the south, were unable to appear here because of the icy highways.

The club did manage to get as far north as Union county, where a later game was played with the Marysville Tigers. The Tigers proceeded to wallop the House of Davids, 45-20, for the second win over the professional team in as many years.

Lloyd Coder, forward, and George Weaver, center, rolled up 13 and 12 points, respectively, in the Tiger offensive. Both formerly were scholastic stars at Magnetic Springs. The Tigers completely dominated the game leading from start to finish. The summary:

EAST'S TEAM FINDS STAR DROP KICKER

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28—Coaches Andy Kerr and Bernie Bierman, grooming an All-East team for the Shrine's East-West charity football game here New Year's day, believe they've found a real scoring threat in the right toe of Edward Boell, New York university halfback.

Boell's chief talent is drop-kicking, and during a double workout yesterday the 200-pounder split the goal posts 10 out of 14 tries at distances ranging from 20 to 37 yards.

Field goals have won several east-west games.

Down at Stanford university stadium, the Westerners might decide a starting eleven today after a scrimmage under game conditions.

Is There A Game Today?

Cincinnati Fans May Not Know, If the Reds Give Up Their Big Red Ball.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Dec. 28—There is more to this business of the Cincinnati Reds moving to a bigger office than meets the eye.

In some way, too complicated to describe here, it is connected with closing of the National league champions' downtown ticket office in a cigar store.

That brings up a question of where are they going to hang the familiar big, red ball that has told the city for some 40 years that the ball game was on.

Fans have always looked for it at Sixth and Walnut. They relied on it more than on newspapers, radio, and direct telephone communication with the front office when the weather looked bad.

It settled bets and dates were made by fond young couples as it swayed gently overhead in the summer breezes.

Now all the downtown ticket selling will be done in the front office, where fast-working clerks with nothing else to do in the world will pass them out. Gone will be the queues that used to get entangled in the traffic. And gone, from its old hang-out, will be the big red ball.

Maybe the Reds will hang it by the new quarters. It won't look quite right to the old fans.

Meanwhile the front office is busy with less sentimental matters. It announced that Charles "Red" Barrett, right - handed pitcher who came up late this year from Indianapolis after a previous trial, had walked in and signed his contract for 1940. He was the 12th in line.

Another item of business was the exchange of relief pitcher Henry Johnson for Cyril "Butch" Moran of the Reds' Birmingham farm in the Southern Association. Moran is a first-baseman who played with Muskogee last season. Johnson was brought from Birmingham in mid-season to bolster the Reds' pennant drive and pitched effectively although he lost three and won none.

BIG-TIME FOOTBALL DOOMED, SAYS PROF

Chicago's Dr. Compton Sees It on Way Out.

By The Associated Press

DENVER, Dec. 28—"Big-time intercollegiate football is on the way out," in the opinion of Dr. Arthur H. Compton, University of Chicago physicist and one-time player at Wooster (O.) college.

"I think college football has been over-professionalized for the last 10 years," he said in an interview. "Moreover, when people in Chicago want to see good football now, they go to a professional game."

(The University of Chicago last week abandoned football.)

"As a former player," Dr. Compton added, "I have a high regard for the value of training, the meaning of sportsmanship, the ability to do one's best against odds, and the matter of loyalty brought out in football.

"At the same time, the way football works in large universities, little of that touches the average student. The number of men on the football squad is a small fraction of the whole student body."

ARON BEATS ZIVIC

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 — Fritzie Zivic may not know what it is to be shorn of the welterweight title, but the Pittsburgh battler probably had a good idea today as he awoke to find himself stripped of the closest things to it — the rating of No. 1 challenger to Champion Henry Armstrong. Milt Aron, son of a Chicago rabbi and a deadly puncher, accounted for Zivic's said musings by knocking out the youngest of a family of fighters last night in the eighth round of a scheduled 10 round bout.

COUPLE OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 28—Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Barth observed their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Pitt township Christmas day with their children, grandchildren and other relatives and friends gathering at their home for the occasion.

A tureen dinner was served at noon, a decorated cake being the central feature. Mr. and Mrs. Barth received a number of gifts. Their four children, Casper Barth, Mrs. Dewey Neal, Theodore Barth and Mrs. George Kramer, were all present for the occasion.

RITES AT UPPER SANDUSKY

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 28—Mrs. Louisa Mease, 76, former local resident, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Eshelman in Youngstown Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church here Friday at 2 p. m. in charge of Rev. R. B. Coleman. Interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

This Rose Bowl Business Is Fun!

There seems to be plenty of fun connected with being a visiting Rose Bowl player on the west coast, especially when some Hollywood atmosphere is provided. Witness the big smile of Guard Al Thomas, of the University of Tennessee football squad, as Actresses Florence Rice (left) and Marjorie Weaver make him welcome at a party given by film director Clarence Brown for the Volunteers at his ranch near Hollywood. Ohio Leader in Wildlife Research

By ED EASTERLY
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 28—One of the largest units in a nation-wide program of wildlife research is being operated at Ohio State university.

Twenty-nine persons are engaged in basic research into wildlife management problems, training students and research workers, testing methods and demonstrating management practices.

Other units are in Alabama, Iowa, Maine, Missouri, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Texas, Utah and Virginia.

The Ohio division is devoting much attention to pheasant management and controlled hunting, particularly in northwestern Ohio.

The research also embraces the foods, population and diseases of rabbits; population trends, cycles and land-use factors affecting the Hungarian partridges, and the status of waterfowl at Pymatuning lake and the Lake Erie marshes.

The conservation division reports that coon hunters generally have agreed not to take any more coons after Jan. 1, although the law permits them to hunt until Jan. 15.

The coon hunters themselves were largely responsible for an order of the conservation and natural resources commission cutting 15 days off the season. The attorney general, however, nullified the commission's action on the ground it first should have conducted public hearings.

Sportsmen who would like to see a good crop of pheasants and Hungarian partridges next year can help bring this about by putting out food for the birds, now that snow has increased feeding difficulties for wildlife.

* * *

It is a big temptation to track rabbits to their holes in the snow and smoke them out. But many sportsmen and conservationists frown on this practice, considering it almost as bad as shooting cottontails while they are sitting.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD AT GALION

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 28 — A memorial service was conducted for the late Mrs. Margaret Rexroth at the December meeting of the Dorcas society, Wednesday at the First Reformed church. This was in charge of Mrs. R. R. Elliker who gave a tribute to the deceased. With Mrs. Fred Hahn at the piano, Lilly Mueller and Mrs. R. G. Sayre, sang; and resolutions of respect for Mrs. Rexroth were read by Mrs. Otis Parks. The business session and devotions were in charge of Mrs. R. G. Sayre. There were 48 members and guests present. Hostesses who served a supper after the meeting were Hulda Klopp, Mrs. Fred Klopp, Mrs. Fred Laubscher, Mrs. F. W. Lelch, Mrs. Louis Liller, Mrs. Vernon Lohr, Mrs. Clifford Mains and Mrs. Lee Miller.

A post-Christmas meeting of the Frieda-Ollie Girls of First Reformed church was held Wednesday at the home of Eleanor Poister. The meeting was opened by Mrs. W. M. King after which the devotions were led by Mrs. Elmer Curfman, and a Christmas story was given by Mrs. Fred Hessenauer.

* * *

Delaplane Star lodge held its installation of officers at the December meeting Wednesday. Mrs. Homer Pensinger, as president, headed the list of officers installed. After the service, there was an exchange of Christmas gifts, and a potluck supper. A prize was awarded to Mrs. Pensinger during the social hours.

WAVE OF SHEEP KILLINGS REPORTED

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 28—W. W. Scheidegger, county dog warden, is busy on a new series of sheep killings in this county, a large dog apparently being active in northwest Salem township. Nine sheep in the vicinity of St. Joseph's church have been killed in recent nights, but as yet no one has seen the dog. Scheidegger reports the killer works like a police dog, tearing at the sheep's ears and heads.

BUCYRUS COUPLE TO WED IN JUNE

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Dec. 28—A West Point marriage during June Week ceremonies will unite a Bucyrus couple, Miss Evelyn Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Phillips and Cadet Captain Augustus John Cullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Cullen.

The wedding will take place in the chapel at West Point where Mr. Cullen will be graduated with the commission of second lieutenant in the U. S. army in June.

The bride elect is now in her senior year at Ohio State university.

Both are graduates of Bucyrus High school.

Miss May Belle Stahl, daughter of Mrs. Georgiana Stahl became the bride of James F. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell of north of Bucyrus in a quiet ceremony in St. John's Reformed church Sunday at noon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are graduates of Bucyrus High school. Mr. Campbell is now attending Penn college at Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reber (Dorothy Curts) whose marriage took place Sunday morning in Good Hope Lutheran church, have established a home at 1102 North Sandusky avenue.

The bride, who is the daughter of W. C. Curts of this city, has been employed at the Kaynee company. Mr. Reber works at the Swan Rubber company.

Rev. H. H. Glick read the marriage service.

GALION KIWANIS NAMES COMMITTEES

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 28 — Two new committees are added this year to those that are appointed by the president-elect of the Galion Kiwanis club, W. F. VonBrock.

Chairmen and their committees were announced this week by Von Brock who will be installed along with the other 1940 officers of Kiwanis, next Tuesday night, Jan. 2, at a special "Ladies' night" meeting at the First Presbyterian church. Installation will be in charge of Rev. P. E. Auer of Galion, a past president of the Ohio district of Kiwanis.

The new committees are: support of churches in their spiritual aims, with J. E. Garverick as chairman; and the good citizenship committee which will be headed by F. R. Pickering.

Other committee chairmen who will serve during the coming year are: William Gledhill, who as vice president, will be general committee chairman; program chairman, Kenneth M. Petri; attendance, Rev. P. E. Auer; membership and classification, Rev. R. R. Flicker; underprivileged child and boys' and girls' work, Herman L. Ricker; vocational guidance, D. C. Talbott; house and recreation, C. L. Merkel; music, George James; interclub relations, F. E. Cook; Kiwanis education, H. F. Eichhorn; publicity, C. L. Ailes; agriculture, A. R. Sorrick.

Von Brock succeeds H. F. Eichhorn as president of the club.

FORMER EDISONITE DIES

Special to The Star

EDISON, Dec. 28—Mrs. Frank Kelly has received word of the death of her cousin, Elmer Ashwell of Greenville, which occurred Monday. Mr. Ashwell was a retired telegraph operator and a former resident of Edison.

REPORT MAIL GAIN AT UPPER SANDUSKY

UPPER SANDUSKY, Dec. 28—Postmaster Charles U. Read reported today that apparently all records were broken at the local post office during the Christmas season. There was an eight per cent increase of outgoing mail in the form of letters and cards and a 20 per cent increase in the sale of postage stamps over 1938, which had set the previous record. In addition, both outgoing and incoming packages showed a considerable increase over last year.

AGAIN THE WANT ADS GET RESULTS FOR THE ADVERTISER

The Marion Star Want Ads again bring results to the advertiser. Here is one of the many poultry ads that have run, and the advertiser has been able to sell all of their stock.

If you have any poultry or livestock that you want to sell, be sure to sell it through the Want Ads. These little inexpensive Want Ads really get you results, and the cost of an ad is small compared to the profit from the articles that you sell.

STOCKS REGAIN EARLIER LOSSES

Wednesday's Backsliders Turn About for Advance in Today's Trading.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 28—The stock market turned around today and many backsliding issues of Wednesday retrieved fractions to more than a point.

While selective rising inclinations were present at the start, volume was considerably under that of the preceding session.

Brokers attributed the better performance of the list mainly to the drying up of tax selling, much of which was completed yesterday, and to reinvestment purchasing by those who look for better things marketwise after the turn of the year.

Steels and aircrafts led the comeback, but most other departments were fairly well represented.

Supported were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Lockheed, Glenn Martin, Eastern Air Lines, United Aircraft, Chrysler, Anaconda, Dow Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Montgomery Ward on N. Y. Central.

Quiet improvement came into the bond section. Commodities were hesitant. European securities markets steadied.

In the curb forward leanings were exhibited by Fisk Rubber, American Gas, N. J. Zinc and Axton-Fisher "A."

In the matter of tax adjustments, commission houses reported these had been much smaller, proportionately, than in several years past.

Steels were aided by forecasts of a rebound in next week's mill operations. Production will not be suspended on New Year's day as it was for Christmas.

Brightening earnings prospects for airplane makers attracted a somewhat wider speculative interest in this group.

A friendlier attitude was shown toward motors in the wake of reports retail sales of new cars were running at the second highest rate for the concluding month of the year on record with a 10 per cent upturn over the November aggregate indicated.

Rails were helped by unofficial surveys pointing to sharply less than seasonal declines in freight loadings.

Masonic Officers Installed

Annual installation of officers of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M., and public reception in their honor was held last night at Masonic temple on the Masonic festival of St. John the Baptist. About 350 persons attended.

Henry A. Mockley of 272 Thew avenue was elevated to the office of worshipful master. Marion Order of DeMolay honored Mr. Mockley, first DeMolay member to become master of the lodge, by presenting him with an engraved gavel. The DeMolay Mothers' circle presented him with flowers.

Stuart E. Jones, retiring master, was the installing officer. Assisting him were J. Fred Dombaugh as installing marshal and Ralph E. Carhart as installing chaplain.

The processional, following music by the Masonic chorus under the direction of L. G. Jones, was composed of a group of DeMolay members and the DeMolay team, and the officers, escorted by their wives or daughters.

List of Officers

The following were installed with Mr. Mockley:

Harold J. Grigsby, senior warden; J. Y. Apt, junior warden; Mayor Russell C. Snare, treasurer; LeRoy D. Zachman, secretary; Harold W. Hall, chaplain; John W. Jacoby, senior deacon; Arthur A. Ward, junior deacon; Merle H. Hughes, senior steward; Deputy Sheriff William H. Willis, junior steward, and William M. Tracy, tyler.

Dr. R. Lincoln Long, Presbyterian minister from Toledo and a past grand chaplain of the grand lodge of Ohio, gave the principal address. He spoke on "The Manhood of the Master."

Following assembly singing of "America," Mr. Jones introduced grand lodge officers, the worshipful master and other officers. Presentation of the gavel and flowers to Mr. Mockley followed his address. After Dr. Long's address Harold Bradt sang.

A past master's gavel was presented the retiring master by L. G. Jones on behalf of the 1939 class.

Bob Mikkelson's orchestra played for dancing at the reception. A buffet lunch was served.

Distinguished Guests

Distinguished guests were Dr. Long, Clarence L. Price of Marion, deputy grand master for the Fifteenth Masonic district, and Harvey T. Groezle of Marion, past grand master of the grand council, Royal and Select Masters of Ohio.

Mr. Mockley announced the following appointments:

WHEAT FLUCTUATES IN NARROW RANGE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 28 — Wheat prices fluctuated nervously within a range of about 2 cents today and wound up little, if any, changed from yesterday's closing figures.

An early slump of about a cent was associated with continued selling based on the improved weather situation in the drouth zone but later the market advanced about 2 cents from early lows on short covering and buying in connection with improved flour demand.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ⅜ higher compared with yesterday's finish, May $1.02⅜-¾, July $1.00⅛-1.00; corn unchanged to ⅝ up, May 58⅞-59⅛, July 59; oats unchanged to ¼ higher.

Boston Wool

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Dec. 28—The wool market in Boston was very quiet today. Purchases were small in volume and were confined largely to covering urgent immediate needs. Most inquiries were for fine and half-blood wools. The bulk of the purchases from spot offerings were of South African Merino wools at prices ranging 90 to 95 cents, scoured basis, including import duty. Odd lots of fine territory wools were taken whenever they were available at $1 to $1.02, scoured basis, for good French combing length and at 92 to 95 cents, scoured basis, for average to short French combing length in original bags.

WORKER KILLS SELF IN MORROW COUNTY

Clinton Culver Fails To Get Job, Ends Life.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, O., Dec. 28—Believed to have been depressed by ill health and failure to get a job in Detroit on which he had pinned much hope, Clinton Culver, 48, shot himself in the head yesterday afternoon as he sat in his car in the yard of the home of his brother, Jesse R. Culver of Vail's Corner in southern Morrow county.

The family said he went to Detroit Saturday in the belief that he had a job, but that it did not materialize. He arrived home about 4 p. m. yesterday and without going into the house he stopped his car in the yard, got out a shotgun and shot himself.

Dr. Robert Gregg of Marengo was called but Mr. Culver was dead when he arrived. He died almost instantly.

Mr. Culver was born in Bennington township but had spent most of his life in California and Michigan. He formerly worked at the Ford plant in Detroit. His wife died a year ago in Detroit and he had been at his brother's most of the time since last fall.

Surviving are the brother and a sister, Miss Mae Culver of Vail's Corners. The body was moved to the H. E. Jacobs funeral home in Marengo.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Jess Culver home. Burial will be at Bloomfield.

ROSS J. M'GINNIS SHERIFF CANDIDATE

Motor Sales Company Head in Democratic Race.

Ross J. McGinnis, owner of the McGinnis Motor Sales at 209 North Main street, today announced he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Marion county in the May primary. He is the fifth Democrat to announce for the office. Five Republicans are also seeking nomination.

Mr. McGinnis is 46 years old, married and has two sons and one daughter. His home is at 129 Garden street. He has been a resident of Marion since 1922 and has been in the automobile business since 1923. For a time he was a telegrapher on the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad and a brakeman on the Erie Railroad. For five years each he was associated with the Credit Loan & Discount Co. of Marion and the Marion Auto Finance Co. He has been in his present business since February, 1938. This is his first try for public office.

BUCYRUS WOMAN AIDS MISSION GROUP

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Dec. 28 — By terms of the will of the late Mrs. Sallie Sears, educator and cultural leader here, her family home on South East street is bequeathed to the Woman's Home Missionary society of First Methodist church provided certain provisions are carried out.

The will specifies that the home, known as Rosedale, become the property of heirs if terms set forth are not carried out. Rufus Sears, husband of the deceased, is to use the home as long as he cares to occupy it.

The home is to be used for teachers and missionaries of the benefiting organization.

The residue of the estate is to be held by the husband until such a time as in his judgment it should be divided into three equal shares and distributed among the three sons, Paul, D. L. and J. D. Sears. Rufus Sears is named executor.

The Stars Say—

For Friday Dec 29

Mixed influences astrologically speaking predominate on this day. There may be much inclination and stimulated action probably in a decided effort to break up old obstructions and congested conditions. The effort under the impetus of keen mentality and sharp resurgence and intuitions may be best directed toward attaining these objectives to make way for constructive endeavor on entirely new and progressive lines. There may be hurtful rash and vexatious opposition. Unexpected change of plans interests and environs is likely.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year in which a definite effort may be made to break up old crystallizations and obstacles may give way for an entirely new sense of more progressive objectives and broader interests. While endeavor on a large many petty vexations and brisk opposition the mentality will be keen resourceful and inspired that will successfully overcome difficulties and advance objectives toward desired ends. All pertaining to writing or publishing is particularly favored.

A child born on this day may be exceedingly active alert studious and deeply certain. Flashy or erratic tendencies

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

TWO SPRIGHTLY KITCHEN AIDS

PATTERN 4285

While about your household tasks with the cheeriest of spirits in this crisp apron. Both sketched versions are made from Anne Adams Pattern 4285— an easy-to-sew style with the Sewing Instructor's aid. See how nicely the high cut sides curve to the back, for trim bodice fit. Criss cross straps ending in a perky bow keep firmly in place. The full bias skirt and the top are each cut in one simple piece. Make the top edge of the bib scalloped if you like and use buttons and ruffle or ric rac trim. Gay contrast is pretty for the straps the pockets and the back bow.

Pattern 4285 is available in sizes small medium and large. Small size view B takes 2⅞ yards 35 inch fabric and ⅞ yard contrast. View A 2½ yards 35 inch fabric and 5⅞ yards ric rac.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size name address and style number.

Now is the time to prepare for spring says Anne Adams about her new spring pattern book which is now ready for you to order. CASPER DON'T LET SEEING KENNETH SNUBBERTON SPOIL YOUR WHOLE DAY
DAY? WHY HE'S SPOILED MY WHOLE YEAR! HE ONLY DROPPED IN TO LET ME KNOW HOW WELL HE'S DONE AND, OF COURSE, HE HAD TO BARGE IN ON THE DAY I WAS WEARIN MY OLDEST SUIT.
THERE'S ONLY ONE GUY IN THIS WORLD I HATE AND HE'S IT! IT BURNT ME UP TO HEAR HIM BRAG ABOUT HIS TRIPS TO EUROPE AND ABOUT ALL THE BIGWIGS HE HOBNOBS WITH!
I HAVEN'T ANYTHING, BUT HE'LL NEVER KNOW IT-- I WISH I KNEW A WAY TO GIVE HIM THE IMPRESSION I'VE DONE RIGHT WELL, MYSELF
I'VE GOT AN IDEA, TOOTS! MY BOSS, BEN PLUNKER, THE RICHEST MAN IN THIS TOWN, IS GONNA HAVE DINNER WITH US TOMORROW ... I'M GOING TO INVITE KENNETH SNUBBERTON, TOO, JUST TO LET HIM SEE THAT I HOBNOB WITH BIGWIGS, TOO

IT'S THREE WEEKS SINCE I'VE HEARD FROM SONNY- I'M AFRAID HE'S WORKING TOO HARD-THE POOR BOY- I WONDER IF HE KNOWS WE'RE IN SCRANTON-PENNSYLVANIA?
I DON'T SEE WHY-- ALL THE FOOTBALL GAMES ARE OVER- HE CERTAINLY HASN'T ANYTHING TO DO NOW-
A TELEGRAM- COLLECT- MUM-
IT IS FROM SONNY- I HOPE THAT NOTHING HAS HAPPENED TO HIM--
HOW COULD ANYTHING HAPPEN TO HIM? HE HAS NEVER DONE ANYTHING-
THE DARLING-HE'S ALWAYS THINKING OF US-HE WANTS US TO SEND HIM TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS-
WHENEVER HE THINKS OF US- IT AMOUNTS TO SOMETHING-
